MEN STOCKHOLDERS

(Lethbridge Herald)

Logan Garment Company, manufacturers of the famous 'Logan-Knit' products, announced Tuesday the establishment of a factory in Lethbridge. The announcement was made by the president of the company, Dr. H. K. Merrill of Logan, Utah, who with other officials of the Logan and Dayton, Ohio, company have been in the province for some time in connection with this project. "We have decided to enter Alberta and will locate our factory at Lethbridge," Dr. Merrill said.

START AT ONCE

Expanding on the announcement of the president, Otto Mehr, general manager, explained that it is the intention of the company to get definite plans under way by October 1. A key man for the field and organization work has been selected. He is a Canadian thoroughly familiar with the Western Canada field. A second key man from our home office will also be selected and in due time these appointments will be announced. The site of the factory will be announced in the next two or three days. Three buildings are being considered.

Articles of incorporation in Alberta are being drawn up by D. H. Elton, K.C., solicitor for the company. The trade name will be registered and the name of the Canadian company will be "Logan Garments, Ltd., with a capitalization of $25,000 subscribed.

EXCLUSIVE LINE

A majority of the stockholders in the Canadian company will be Southern Alberta men. The purpose of the company, according to Mr. Mehr, is to manufacture an exclusive line of knitted sport suits and dresses with fabric and styling equal to any on the American or Canadian markets. "We are really prompted to come in this field," Mr. Mehr explained, "by the widespread response from Western Canada to our KSL radio broadcasts. From the four western provinces letters have poured into our general offices and we are pleased now to be on the way toward serving our Canadian friends with products from a Canadian factory."

Logan Garment company has been operating over 10 years & is the successor to the oldest knitting firm in Utah, Model Knitting Works of Salt Lake City. All the rights, patents and trade names were acquired. The company has two factories at Logan, Utah, and one in Dayton, Ohio, and for years has enjoyed an exclusive direct to consumer trade, also a flourishing retail store clientele in Utah Idaho and California. The company operates a number of hand somely appointed stores in key cities.

Within the next three months a complete organization will be effected, Mr. Mehr said. E. Pingree Tanner of Magrath, has very actively associated himself with the proposal for an Alberta plant and was chairman

Wedding Bells

WOOD — ROBERTS

Lincoln, eldest son of Pres. and Mrs. T. Geo. Wood, and Miss Mildred, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Roberts were married last Saturday evening at the Wood home at 8 p.m. when Pres. Wood, father of the groom performed the ceremony. The marriage was witnessed by parents of both contracting parties, members of the families and a few friends.

A loud honking of horns proclaimed the fact that the knot was tied, when the popular young people were kidnapped by their friends and given a car ride about the town. They will make their home in Raymond, and both have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy married life.

VANDERHILT — BACON

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Chancey Bacon was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding on Saturday, Sept. 19, when their only daughter, Sibyl, became the bride of Jack Vanderhilt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Vanderhilt of Amsterdam, Holland. The bride wore a black afternoon frock and a corsage of roses. Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Dilley attended the bride and groom. Bp. Walker performed the ceremony in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bacon parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. B. Dilley, Mrs. L. Bacon, Mrs. P. D. Bennett, Mrs. G. Holt, Miss Margaret Fisher and Mr. K. Hague.

Mr. and Mrs. Vanderhilt are popular members of the younger set. Sibyl has lived here since childhood, and Jack has been here for a number of years. They will make their home in Raymond.

Quite a number of local people were at the Temple on Wednesday, especially returned missionaries from the North Central States Mission. Elder German that mission for many years, E. Ellsworth who presided over was at the Temple that day, and with the missionaries enjoyed a sort of missionary reunion. A very splendid time is reported.

of the local committee named to interest Canadian money in the undertaking. Mayor Elton, City Manager Watson, R. Barrowman, president of the Board of Trade, A. G. Baalim and others have also done valuable work in connection with securing the factory for Lethbridge.

The entry into this field of this well established manufacturing concern means a substantial investment here and the employment of a considerable staff. The company does three quarters of a million dollars worth annually and has a staff of approximately 500. Dr. Merrill is president; J. W. Seamons, vice-president; Otto Mehr, secretary-treasurer and general manager; and A. H. Thompson, a director. Mr. Thompson is also a director of the large "Morning Milk" company, of Utah. Through the establishment of the garment factory other affiliated plants may be induced to locate branches in Southern Alberta, Mr. Mehr said.

School Fair Sets Record For Attendance

The local school fair, held Wednesday in the Opera House, probably set a new record of attendance in the number of parents who inspected the exhibits of the boys and girls of School age. In past years the fair has been held in the Public School auditorium, and the lights of stairs that had to be dimmed kept many of the elderly people of the Town away. This year the exhibits were arranged in the Opera House, and this fact and the fact too that the fair was open until 9 p.m. gave many people the opportunity of attending who would otherwise have been unable to arrange their timetable to attend.

The judges were well pleased with the quality of exhibits, although disappointed in the quantity. Some classes were not represented at all, and others had but one or two entries in them. Mr. Ben, of Olds, one of the judges, summed up the attitude of the officials about it as follows: "Teachers are doing their part, and the exhibits were very nicely arranged. There is a decided lack of interest on the part of the pupils however, because there are no suitable prizes. In the cake class, where the Baking Powder Co. gave a special prize, the competition was keen and the class very well represented." He suggested a Fair Board be organized to try and arrange a Prize List somehow so that there would be more interest on the part of the children to exhibit.

In the Cooking and Sewing classes Miss McIntyre of Olds judged and commended the quality of the exhibits, but deplored the lack of entries and the loss of interest on the part of the pupils. The exhibitors should stick more rigidly by the instructions from the Department.

Mr. Asplund judged the vegetable and like the other classes the quality was good, but quantity lacking. There was a nice exhibit of apples, straw berries, melon and cantaloupe, but generally speaking there was a decided lack of interest.

There was a nice display in the School work in art and Penmanship, showing appreciation and ability on the part of the pupils. We hope to have a list of the Prize Winners for next week's issue.

News Notes

G. E. McCullough, of the Kellogg's Co., Calgary, was a Raymond visitor today.

J. U. Allred and his brother Clarence with other passengers are leaving for October Conference next Monday.

First meeting of the Second ward M.L.A. was held Tuesday evening with a fair attendance considering the season of the year.

A shower of rain for a few minutes Tuesday forenoon settled the dust, and for a few minutes looked as if it might settle the good weather. Tuesday night however was clear and cool.

O. H. Snow, I. B. Roberts and Wm. Jensen were in Lethbridge Wednesday to meet with the Hon. J. G. Gardener with respect to water storage and the Town Dam south of town. The Minister was non-committal but referred the delegation again to Mr. J. Vallance, and stated that he was well aware of the need of some immediate action on these and associated programs. The delegation were much impressed with the sympathy and understanding of west ern problems by the Minister.

Employees of the Provincial Government have been busy the past ten days putting up snow fences throughout the district along the main highways.

Mr. and Mrs. De Vere Hunt of Carleton are living in the Post Office block, and De Vere will be working in the Factory during the campaign.

Here's something to think about. Put a radio in your car to assist in preventing motor accidents. Those who have them claim they drive from five to fifteen miles per hour slower when the radio in their car is turned on.

There have been dozens of transients in town during the past ten days looking for work in the beet fields. Most farmers are endeavoring to harvest their beets with the labor they have employed during the summer.

Earl P. Tanner of Magrath was a Raymond visitor Friday afternoon in the interests of soliciting stock for the Logan Garment Co's Canadian plant. That he was successful, at least to a degree, is proven by the decision of the company to locate in Lethbridge.

Large Crowd At Farewell Banquet For J.H. Blackmore

RELIEF COSTS BEING CUT

Short crop yields, lack of stock feed, and other conditions which confront the officials of Towns and Municipalities in Southern Alberta, are causing a drastic downward revision in the schedule of relief costs approved in most localities for the coming winter. The following report is of the meeting of the Royal Municipality, and was lifted from the Lethbridge Herald last Tuesday:

Members of the council of the Municipal District of Royal are anticipating much relief this coming winter and have already approved the provincial relief department schedule of relief. The schedule adopted at the September meeting of the council provides $7.50 per month for married couples, $1 per month for every child. Every month the sum of $5 will be issued for coal purchases to relief recipients.

Clothing relief will be allowed by the councillors to their discretion after reviewing the various cases as they come in for attention of the council.

The shortest crop yield in the history of the Vulcan district has aggravated the relief situation for municipal governments and the largest number on relief rolls since it was inaugurated is expected. Already a number have made application for relief to the council of the Royal Municipality.

Similar action has been taken by High River and other centres, officials feeling that in view of conditions every season only will have to be practised.

Local officials of Town and Sugar City Municipality have made no announcement as yet, but in view of the fact that these rates as outlined above, are the suggestions of the Provincial Government, it is likely that most relief agencies will govern themselves accordingly.

MUTUAL OPENING

Raymond 2nd Ward M.L.A. held their annual opening in the Ward Hall Saturday evening last, with a large and enthusiastic crowd in attendance. Wm. A. Anderson, President of the Y.M.M.I.A., conducted the festivities of the evening, and Miss Mildred Galbraith, Pres. of the Y.W.M.I.A. welcomed the guests to the opening and invited all of them out to the first session of class work which started last Tuesday night.

The program was as follows: Reading—Mrs. Emma Peterson; Jokes on all and sundry by J. W. Evans; "M' Men Quartette; Bee Hive Chorus; Gleaner Girls Chorus; Quartette competition between Four returned Missionaries, and four young men of the Ward; a competition between the Married and Single Ladies; Mrs. A. J. Walton congratulated the ward officials on their successful opening and on behalf of the Stake officials urged all to attend and get the benefit of the winter work. Moses Fromm had his dancing doll present and entertained the crowd several minutes with the antics of this novelty.

Dancing followed the program for the remainder of the evening and everyone present had a very enjoyable evening.

The farewell and testimonial banquet in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Blackmore and family, who are leaving Raymond to live in Cardston, which was held at the High School on Friday evening last, was a decided success in every way. Sponsored by the local Social Credit organization, the evening was attended by a very representative group of townspeople, who met to honor John for his years and years of service in the teaching profession in our town.

The supper was prepared by the First Ward Relief Society and the 160 people who were present did full justice to the good things of the earth which were served up. During the meal John Lester and sons of Stirling entertained the guests with selections on the zither, harp, violin and guitar. Bishop J. Orvin Hickson was Master of Ceremonies and conducted the following program after the supper:

Toast to the King—Hans E. Wright, M.L.A., Lethbridge.

Appreciation on behalf of the Town for the years of service of the honored guest—Mayor G. T. May.

Appreciation of John Blackmore a principal and senior teacher—Paul H. Redd, Principal and for many years a teacher in Raymond's High School under Mr. Blackmore.

The guest of honor was called on, and replied very fittingly to the toasts and expressions of appreciation. He stated that he had always considered his profession as a mission, and that in his associations with young men and women he had tried to implant in them an appreciation of the good and beautiful life, and that above all in his teaching he had endeavored to build character.

Mrs. Emil Weed spoke her appreciation of Mrs. Blackmore as a friend and neighbor, and presented to both Mr. and Mrs. Blackmore beautiful bouquets of home grown flowers as a mark of appreciation from the citizens of Raymond. Mrs. Blackmore replied to the compliments.

The National Anthem brought this part of the program to a close.

The auditorium of the High School was filled to capacity for a short meeting and program which followed the banquet. Short speeches were made by Albert Wright and Hans E. Wright, both of Lethbridge, each expressing their appreciation of John H. Blackmore and his sincerity in the cause of Social Credit. Mr. Blackmore spoke for a few minutes and reiterated his belief in Social Credit as the solution to our national and international problems.

Mrs. Emma Peterson gave an original reading. Mrs. Albert Wright and Miss Marie O'Brien rendered vocal solos, and Frank R. Taylor and Co. sang a Male Quartette, all four of these numbers being encored.

All in all the evening was a decided success, and the local Social Credit group desire to thank all those who in way contributed to the evening.

A large number of Raymond people journeyed to Lethbridge on Sunday, to inspect the stream lined train which was there that day. The air conditioning and the comfortable seats seemed very inviting.

Prem. Aberhart Will be Here Sat., Oct. 3rd

Premier William Aberhart precede an evening meeting, will visit Raymond next Saturday, October 3rd. Details are not complete yet regarding his visit, but a banquet will likely precede an evening meeting, when the public will have the opportunity of hearing the Hon. Premier discuss some of the questions of the Province.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR SOUTHERN ALBERTA

The announcement that the Logan Garment Co. is to locate in Lethbridge should be hailed with more than passing interest by citizens of Southern Alberta as a whole. While the city of Lethbridge stands to benefit more possibly than any other town or city in the Province, at the same time, the entire district adjacent to Lethbridge will benefit as the scope of the industry expands.

Southern Alberta is and always has been, and likely always be a great district for sheep ranching. Experiments have been made by growers sending their washed wool to mills in Eastern Canada, having it spun and made up into sweaters, socks, etc., and getting it back home, with much more in goods than the price of the wool would bring. It is likely that the establishment of the Knitting Factory will lead to the establishment of washing and spinning mill so that Western Wool can be processed entirely in Western Canada and sold to the prairie people, with out having to ship it east for processing, and then ship it back west for selling.

Like all other industries this will need a certain amount of loyalty to make the venture a success. We are fortunate in having Sugar Factories in our district, yet how many of us ever specify Alberta Sugar when we buy, or do we leave it to the clerk or storekeeper to put in what he wants. We have a broom factory and a canning factory in Taber, but how many of us know the trade name of Taber brooms and Taber Corn, Peas, Beans and Pumpkin. It has meant quite an investment to establish these industries. Indirectly we are all benefitting by their establishment in our part of Canada, and yet, we take it as a matter of course that they are going to find their own market without any boosting or any loyalty on the part of the people who are living off the fruits of the faith and vision of their sponsors in Southern Alberta.

So it will be with Lagon Knit goods. The quality will be on a par with any other similar product. The price will likely be about the same, and whether or not you buy Logan Knit will depend a good deal on whether or not you are made Logan Knit conscious. There is also another angle to it. In supporting all of these industries that are located in our midst we are creating wider & larger markets for the products, increasing their demands on raw products, increasing their demands for labor, and in every way benefitting the community and district in which they are carrying on.

A suggestion in under consideration that part of the canning stock that is now being bought up throughout Southern Alberta be processed at the Taber Canning plant. Officials of the concern have been negotiating with Government officials, and state that by making minor changes this processing could be done in Taber as well as in Calgary and Edmonton. A definite answer is expected shortly.

ability or sweetness of the running, or wears out the works unduly, is either in itself disease or something that will lead to disease. An accident is a monkey wrench thrown into delicately adjusted works.

In life's first half organs and elements are at their best, except for hang overs of heredity which are like old parts put into new cars the glory of young men is their strength. Yet in this glowing first half germs make mass attacks, and gross infection beset, that can destroy a machine utterly or do life enduring damage. Measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever, tuberculosis and all the colds and flus are rampant.

By the second half, while most of these may have spent themselves, new ones wax as others wane, pneumonia, bronchitis, carriage, renal and rheumatic types. And older tissues may get a craze of untimely youth and growth and go on the rampage in a group of diseases called cancer, the crab. In the second half also, whether specially damaged or not, the tissues begin to show signs that is symptoms of wearing out. It may be that some one organ gives special trouble, and an oldish man will tell you he would be all right if he could only buy a few spare parts. Or the whole mechanism may wear out fairly equally, like the deacon's one hoss shay, built in such a wonderful way that no part was stronger or weaker than any other; so, naturally, it went to pieces all at once, all at once & nothing first just as bubbles do when they burst. And that was the end of the one hoss shay. One may come to the end in a full age, like a shock of corn cometh in his season.

Touchstone the clown had a good idea of the two halves of life. The melancholy Jacques, the crabbed philosopher, thought "all the world's a stage," and dramatized man socially, "his acts being seven ages, at first the infant mewling and puking in the nurse's arms," and finally—

"Last scene of all
That ends this strange eventful history

In second childishness and mere oblivion:

Sans teeth, sans eyes sans taste sans everything."

The clown, thinking not of the social actor but the physical man, saw two stages, development and decline. "And thus (first half) from hour to hour we ripe and ripe; and then (second half) from hour to hour we rot and rot, and there by hangs a tale."

When Pasteur found disease germs and the age of the microscope began; when Lister built on this foundation a new surgery, and men like Koch a new preventive medicine; and when these mysteries became popular knowledge, so that every housewife applied them hourly death-rates were cut and life spans lengthened almost as though we had at last eaten of the tree of life in the midst of the garden. Surgeons think of the Pasteur Lister Koch new dawn as an incalculable service to mankind through the new surgery, physicians as an almost grater service through new principles learned about many diseases, their care and cure.

But the greatest service of all was the increase in knowledge of disease prevention and cure that came to ordinary people, to mothers and teachers, housewives and city councillors, butchers and bakers, and candle stick makers. A good housewife today, without special instruction but acting on what she knows and applies at home every day, could prepare a room for an operation better than the best of surgeons or the best of nurses could have done it before Lister. This wide spread intelligence about the ways of disease and health (and of course it should be much wider) is the best result of the new knowledge.

The first infection-ridden half of life has been indeed transformed by the new knowledge, but the second half of life much less, except for the advantages of the new surgery. The average life span may reach new heights each decade because infants do not die of summer diarrhoea, or children of diphtheria, and yet the middle aged have not gone on smoothly to Metusalem ages, even when they ate what was put on their plate.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College St. Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

WEEKLY LETTER

FEEDING THE MILKING HERD

The dairyman, like other live stock producers, is faced with the prospect of high-priced feed this winter. Under these circumstances there is a tendency to attempt to cut down feed expenses by feeding lower grade feeds or by feeding less. Although it is realized that in too many instances dairymen will be forced to employ one or both of these measures to reduce their feed bills it should be stressed that in most herds there are better methods of economizing which, if rigorously applied, may overcome the necessity of resorting to the practice of lowering the plane of nutrition for the whole herd. It has been repeatedly demonstrated that by culling out the low-producing cows or "boarders" in the herd and by feeding the remaining good cows more nearly to the limit of their capacity to produce, the dairyman can not only reduce his feed bills, but can, at the same time, maintain the total quantity of milk produced at or above the former level for his herd.

A dairy cow must, over any extended period, retain about half of the nutrients in a liberal ration to maintain her body. The difference between a good and a poor dairy cow is that the good cow returns practically all of the surplus in the form of milk, while the poor cow returns only a fraction in the form of milk and either wastes the rest or uses it simply to store up fat in her own body. When the ration of the good cow is cut down one quarter below a liberal feed, then she will be able to use only one third of her total feed for milk production, so that her production may fall to a level corresponding to that of the poorer cows in the herd. Thus, cutting the ration for the whole herd without regard to the inherited capacity for milk production of the individual cows is bound to penalize the high producing or efficient cows.

There is another way in which many of our dairymen can reduce their feed bill. Mr. Dairyman think well before you raise any dairy steers. An 800 pound dairy steer is hardly worth one ton of good hay today.

Elevator Competition

The business of handling Western grain is not only the most highly regulated but also the most competitive business in Canada.

All country elevators, whether Line elevators or Pool, compete for business. Competition is as keen amongst Line elevators as it is between Line and Pool elevators. The service given by elevator companies is honest and efficient, as it must necessarily be.

The Alberta Pool advertisements refer to their competitors as a "family compact." There is not and never has been any "family compact" among grain companies any more than there is between Line and Pool elevators.

It is the habit of the Pools in their advertising for competitive business to claim credit for every improvement in agricultural conditions and to blame their competitors for the burdens that remain, whether they arise from world conditions, national conditions or geographical conditions, for which the Line companies are no more responsible than the Pools. Their claim is untrue and unfair.

The Line elevators are as keenly interested as any other organization in a good price for the farmer, in his prosperity and in the improvement of the external and internal conditions that affect his welfare.

Here and There

Famous officers of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Sir John A. Macdonald, Prime Minister of Canada, arrived at Revelstoke recently and held a series of historic meetings. Among them were Donald A. Smith, George Stephen, James J. Hill, Van Horne and Shaughnessy, names associated for the past half century with the construction of Canada's first transcontinental railway. The party actually comprised a group of film players portraying the historic characters in the tense board-room sequence of "The Great Barrier", Gaumont British picture depicting the strenuous railway construction days fifty years ago.

Says Gene Sarazen, one time world's champion golfer, writing of the Banff Springs Hotel course at the famous resort in the Rockies:—"That course of Banff is everything you said. Miss Helen Hicks and I played it against two guests at the hotel and we were beaten. With a huge gallery it may seem funny to hear we simply couldn't keep our minds on the game—the scenery was simply too much."

The first 1937 world cruise to set out from New York will be the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain which will sail January 9 for a voyage of 125 days, covering 30,000 miles and visiting 29 ports in 22 different countries. Among these countries are Palestine, Egypt, India, Ceylon, Malaya Archipelago, the Philippines, China, Japan, Hawaii and back to New York via California, the Panama Canal and Havana.

Canada's first complete semi-streamlined air-conditioned train, built for the Canadian Pacific Railway, now in operation with four units in different parts of the Dominion, has been placed on inspection at a number of points across the country and has aroused high praise and enthusiasm on the part of the hundreds of thousands of Canadians who have seen it. In Montreal alone 60,000 spectators went through it in the four days it was on inspection at the Windsor station and the same interest was displayed everywhere else. These units will be in operation between Toronto and Detroit, Montreal and Quebec, and Edmonton and Calgary.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King and other delegates to the League of Nations Conference at Geneva sailed from Quebec in September in the Canadian Pacific flagship Empress of Britain. Accompanying the Premier was Hon. Raoul Dandurand, Government leader in the Senate and Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor.

Captain George Gould, new skipper of the Empress of Russia, made his first trip as master of the vessel early in September. It is his first command of a Pacific Empress, though he has served the fleet in all official capacities from fourth officer to staff-captain during the past 23 years.

Last of three motor parties visiting Canada this year, 14 British automobilists arrived recently at Quebec on the Empress of Britain. The motorcade under the organizer Graham Lyons, drove from Quebec to Montreal and will visit Ottawa, Toronto, London, Detroit, Cleveland, Washington and New York.

SENTENCE STIMULANTS

When indigestion bloats and pains you, the root of the trouble may be in the fact that you do not eat enough roots.

Some folks can say more in a few scintillating phrases than others have found out in fifty years.

A man's temper is always under better control when he knows the one he is talking to could thrash him.

The New York Herald Tribune says: "Reich Clergy Warn Hitler He Does Not Outrank God." One can almost hear Hitler say, "Oh Yeah!"

You can be as stupid as man kind and still look the other fellow in the eye. But when you are stupider, it's time to straiten yourself up.

A man who has stopped growing at both ends but who is over doing it at the middle may need more bulky foods in his diet.

Laughing lightens the load in the digestive tract and helps nerves to be tinglingly active rather than irritatingly taut.

The way some people whine when they pray gets my goat. But then I don't lose interest in athletics because some athletes wobble when they walk.
